Instructions

Point is to quantify the examination achievement with the corresponding Point, which is a quantitative indicator of the learning level of each course. As a quantitative indicator of quality and quantity of study, Credit Points account for different proportions because of different rated Credits of courses. Grade Point Average, the basis of student status, is the landmark indicator of the overall amount of learning in the whole period.

(1) Relations of Examination Achievement, Point and Rate

Examination Achievement	Point	Rate	Corresponding score of Hundred Mark System
90-100	4-5	Excellent	95
80-89	3-3.9	Good	85
70-79	2-2.9	Middling	75
60-69	1-1.9	Qualified	65
<60	0	Failed	0
Performance Achievement	Point
Pass	2
Fail	0

(2) Calculation of Credit Point and GPA

Credit Point of a course is to multiply its Credit by Point. In a semester, GPA of a student is that the sum of Credit Points of all courses is divided by the sum of credits of these courses:

$$GPA = \frac{\sum (\text{Course Credit Point} * \text{Course Credit})}{\sum \text{Course Credit}}$$

Note: Elective courses are counted into a part of GPA.
